Session One: 09:30 am to 12:00 pm

Clicker Apps

This first part of this session will be delivered by Jordan Butel from Crick Software. He will be presenting the Clicker Communicator AAC App as well as their range of educational Clicker Apps designed to support literacy learning in the classroom.

The second part of the session will be presented by a Teacher at the Communication and Assistive Technology Service looking into the practical applications of the software, including how to use it to support individuals both in and out of the classroom.

Session Two: 1:00 pm to 2:00 pm

Widgit Online

This session will be delivered by Amy Follows who will show you how to use Widgit's new online service, Widgit Online. You can create, save and share symbol resources in a web browser with no software installation needed. Choose from a wide range of easy to use templates to create flashcards, stories, timetables and a lot more.

Session Three: 2:15 pm to 3:15 pm

PODD: Something to Say

This session will be delivered by an experienced Speech and Language Therapist. The aim of the session is to improve awareness of aided language stimulation and provide information on what is different about PODD, including what formats and adaptations are available.
