

TEACHERS PENSIONS: IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR PART TIME AND SUPPLY TEACHERS

Please look at the list below so that you can be clear which of the following possibilities apply to you:

- 1) You are a new teacher and enter part time employment after 1.1.07 and have no other teaching employment.
You will automatically become a TPS member, if you do not want to join TPS you must opt out.
- 2) You are an existing teacher in part time employment before 1.1.07 with no part time election and have no other teaching employment.
You will not be a member of the TPS.
- 3) You are a teacher with previous service and enter part time employment after 1.1.07 and have no other current teaching employment and have not previously opted out.
You will become a member of the TPS, if you do not want to join the TPS you must opt out.
- 4) You enter part time employment after 1.1.07 and have other full time teaching employment.
You will not have deductions taken on your part time employment.
- 5) You enter part time employment after 1.1.07 and have other concurrent part time teaching employment.
You will automatically be entered into TPS unless you have previously opted out
- 6) If you have recently retired and have taken up new employment full or part time.
You will automatically have contributions deducted.

It is your responsibility to ensure that the correct contributions are being deducted from your salary on all of your contracts.