Waterloo 200, in partnership with Hungry for History, is seeking to challenge schoolchildren from across the UK to determine their 100 defining moments in history of the last 200 years from 1815-2015.

CATEGORIES

HISTORY, NATURE, ART, SPORT AND SCIENCE/TECHNOLOGY

AGE GROUPS

7-10, 11-13, 14-16, 17-18

TIMINGS

COMPETITION OPENS FRIDAY 20TH MARCH 2015/COMPETITION CLOSES WEDNESDAY 8TH JULY 2015

A distinguished and famed judging panel will decide on the winning '100 Defining Moments' with 20 'defining moments' chosen from each of the five categories with equal representation from each age group. This is a unique opportunity for the younger generation to express their ideas nationally and to leave their own legacy for future generations during these commemorations. We want to appeal to teachers and pupils across the curriculum. Individuals, teams or schools can enter as many 'moments' as they wish. The winning moments will be announced nationally during the Michaelmas Term 2015.

"I'd like to see our history through the eyes of a child and to hear their views on our defining moments. Children tend to have no preconceived ideas. They are very perceptive and can make some amazing observations without sugar coating because they have no reason to." Dan Snow, historian, author, presenter and a Timeline 200 Judge
